A GOOD SHOW

We are always advising you to advertise, and to keep on advertising, but that does not cover the ground entirely. Of course, you should make your advertising effective—if an electric light be available, you should not use a "tallow dip" to light the path to your store.

What do we mean by that? Simply that the more conspicuous, the more artistic, the more attractive, the more original you make your advertisements, the more people will see and read them, and the more customers you will have to contribute to your cash-drawer.

Study effects in bold pretty type—good matter may be spoiled by ugly dressing. Seek to catch the eye by a display of good taste in the style and arrangement of your announcement.

Above all, let it be bold enough to be easily read. Don't vex a reader by vexing his or her eyes!

THE CRIMINAL COURT

Opened the Regular November Session Yesterday.

INDICTMENTS BY THE GRAND JURY

Not Numerous, but More Varied in Character than Usual—A Number of Felonies to be Examined Into at this Term, but None of them of a Sensational Character.

The Ohio county criminal court opened its regular November session yesterday, with Judge Jordan on the bench. The grand jury was impaneled and sworn and finished its business so as to be able to adjourn shortly after 4 o'clock, the shortest session of a grand jury on record for several years past. Little other business was transacted by the court.

In the case of Andrew Albinger and Annie Sheppard, the motion for a new trial was overruled and each fined $20 and costs.

The list of indictments presented by the grand jury was not long, but the cases are varied in character. They are as follows:

A. B. Garrett, embezzlement, two bills.

W. P., alias Platoff Taylor, bigamy.

Charles Southern, larceny of a watch and other property.

John McNamara, feloniously beating his wife.

John Johnson, burglary.

Joseph Cheek, horse stealing.

Jack Devinney, assault.

Charles Early and Dora Stewart, unlawful cohabitation.

George Schell, adultery.

Oliver Logan, alias Dode Marshall, living in a house of ill fame.

Oliver Brown, alias Cora Wright, same charge.

Oliver Burns, alias Minnie Thompson, same charge.

Oliver Smith, alias Bessie Allen, same charge.

Teddy Flynn, assault.

Jacob Lukert, wife beating.

Louis Beckali, selling drinks to a minor, two bills.

Louis Beckali, selling liquor on Sunday.

Lizzie Corliss, adultery.

Lizzie Corliss, keeping a house of ill fame.

Lucey Belmont, keeping a house of ill fame.

W. J. Bodley, assault on a constable.

The following were returned as not true bills:

Elizabeth Harden, adultery, two charges.

William McWilliams, grand larceny.

The court adjourned until Wednesday, when the docket will be called. The petit jury has been ordered to report next Monday.

A BIG JUDGMENT SUIT

Filed at Steubenville Yesterday by Judge

R. H. Cochran, Formerly of Wheeling,

Against the C. & W. R. R. Co.

Yesterday's Steubenville Herald has the following: The largest petition in cognovit ever filed in this county was presented to the court of common pleas

this morning, and judgment taken on it for $45,828 78. It was the case of

Robert H. Cochran, of Toledo, vs. the Cleveland & Wheeling Railroad Co.

This corporation succeeded to the rights and property of the South Pennsylvania

& Ohio railroad company, which secured a right of way and did considerable grading in Carroll, Harrison and

Jefferson counties, coming down Short

Creek to the river, thence down the river to Martin's Ferry. It was crowded out by the W. & L. E. and there is no probability of the road ever being constructed, at least along this line. On December 1, 1888, the company gave thirty-six judgment notes of $1,000 each to the International Trust Co., of Boston,

payable in that city on November 1,

1893, with interest at 5 per cent. The notes are signed by J. W. Cassingham, president of the road; E. Blood, treasurer, and W. E. Cunningham, secretary.

Judge Cochran is the present owner. The attorneys are John S.

Cochran, John M. Cook and J. C. Bigler.

SHOES—ALEXANDER.

WE TAKE PAINS

to see that every man and woman coming into our store gets a proper fit in shoes. In some stores the salesmen are lazy and let you take away a shoe that does not fit properly, to save themselves the trouble of rummaging among the shelves for the proper thing. It costs us nothing to take special trouble, and we find the satisfaction it gives customers makes it well worth our while. A single ill-fitting pair of shoes is enough to start corns that will last a life-time. Trading at a store where you are sure to get nothing but "fits" means

"Lord Rooney."

The Pat Rooney comedy company produced "Lord Rooney" for the fifth time at the Grand last night to a crowded house. Katie Rooney as Chips gave a very clever performance, and her specialties and imitations of her father, Pat Rooney, scored a decided hit. Mattie Rooney is also a clever and pretty soubrette. The balance of the company are all up to their parts. The same performance will be repeated to-night and between the acts the election returns will be received and read from the stage.
